Lloyd Introduces Resolution to Wipe Out Bales of Patronage.

SPECIAL POLICEMEN

One Hundred and Twenty Thousand Dollars to Be Annual Saving.

In accordance with the economy program of the Democratic caucus Representative Floyd, of Arkansas, today introduced two resolutions wiping out nearly $120,000 worth of patronage at the Capitol. The special police force is hit especially hard. A joint resolution dealing with the police force calls for the elimination of one lieutenant at $1,200 a year and 34 privates at $1,050, making a total reduction of $36,700 in the police department alone.

The resolution dealing with the police must be approved by the Senate. On the major portion of the patronage fied with what the regulars have alwhich it is intended to eliminate, the House has complete control and it only remains for the action of the House, which is already regarded as a foregone conclusion.

Positions Abolished.

Under the provisions of the resolution dealing with the patronage under the exclusive jurisdiction of the House positions calling for salaries of $92,280 are to be abolished. The committee on organization of the House, however, has created new positions calling for an annual salary expenditure of about $10,000, so that the net saving on House clerical work will be $82,280, and the total saving, including the police force will be $119,180. The House clerical positions abolished under the terms of the Floyd resolution are as follows: Stenographers to committees: Assist-

Judge Scores Marshal For Forcing Collections

Sharply criticising Assistant United States Marshal Stephen Callahan for making the Police Court a collection agency to force settlement of civil suits," Judge James L. Pugh today gave minimum fines to George Schnebel, a saloonkeeper, and his bartender, Matthew Lienen, for assaulting the assistant marshal when he went to the saloon to serve a writ of judgment on Schnebel. The two men were convicted of the assault yesterday by jury.
Judge Pugh said today that he would have regarded the assault as an attack on the law, but that the action of Deputy Marshal Callahan in mixing a civil sult with a criminal action nullified that element of the case. Schnebel was fined $10 and Leinen half that amount.

The expected row in the Senate today over the Republican committee appointments did not develop. It is expected to come at the next session of the Senate, tomorrow.

When the routine morning business had been disposed of, Senator Galling-TO FEEL MAIN BLOW er, as chairman of the caucus, presented the resolution carrying the list of designations for committees on the Republican side. He asked its adop-

Insurgent Protest Expected.

It is expected that when the Senate meets tomorrow, the insurgents will protest vigorously over the refusal of the regulars to allow Senator La Follette a place on the Interstate Commerce Committee, over the refusal to allow Cummins or Bristow on Foreign Relations.

The progressive Republicans held a long conference this morning. Senator La Follette wants to fight to a finish on the floor. Others of the progressives are less pugnacious and are satislowed them

Cummins also will do so.

In the row over the Senate committees, one of the peculiar facts about the situation is that the regulars have een extremely tenacious about the For eign Relations Committee.

They have been slow to allow the progressive Republicans places on that committee. A good deal of mystery as to the reason for this has been mani-

"Dollar Diplomacy" Fear.

It appears that the organization leaders in the Senate are fearful that if the progressives should get the balance of power on the committee there would be war on the so-called "dollar diplomacy" of the State Department. Particularly, they have been fearful lest ratification of the Hondurian loan treaty, in which J. Pierpont Morgan & Co. are interested, should be balked. It develops that one of the progressives of the Senate was told he could have a place on the Foreign Relations Committee, but immediately attempts were made to the him up to the support of certain of the plans favored by the State Department in pursuance of "dollar diplomacy."

Thereupon, the progressive spurned the place and in effect told the Senator who was seeking to bind him, to go to a warmer climate.

a warmer climate.

It is declared in Senate circles that the Republican leaders in the Senate have been quite as much concerned over Foreign Relations as ever Finance. The Republican list of committeemen, as agreed on by the majority of the caucus and submitted to the Senate today is for the most part as it has been printed. The Republican membership of the principal committees follows:

Invitations were received today by many Washington business men to the real estate banquet which is to be given the red pariors of the New Willard Interoceanic Canal-Thornton, Chilton, Hotel Tuesday evening, May 9, at 7:30 and O'Gorman.

To Investigate Trespasses on Indian Lands—Smith of Maryland, chairman, clock. This banquet is being tendered by Reginald W. Beall, vice president of Moore & Hill, Inc., to discuss and perfect the organization of the City Real Estate Company, an organization new n plan to this city.

The company which is expected to re sult from the gathering of men interested in local realty investments is to be incorporated with a capitalization of $300,000, $100,000 in 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock and $200,000 in com stock in shares of $10 each.

Its Purposes.

The purposes of the company were outlined today by Mr. Beall. He said: "The organization of the City Real Estate Company supplies a long felt want in the city of Washington. The company has mapped out for its plan of work the buying and selling of bargains that come upon the Washington real estate market; the improvement of houses out of repair; the building of houses; the purchasing and developing of good suburban enterprises; the purchasing and seiling of real estate securfties; and, if necessary, to engage in the real estate, loan, and insurance business as brokers and agents.

"The officers and directors of the company will be selected from the stockholders, either at the banquet, or at some other time to be agreed upon. There are to be not less than five nor more than twenty-five directors. "It is not the intention to purchase properties for permanent investments but rather to make purchase of prop erty that can be improved, and prop-erty that can be readily sold. There are large opportunies for making this class of investments, especially at this time. Ne ver before in the history of Washington has there been such an opportunity to purchase, somewhat under the actual market price, homes, business property or suburban property which can be resold at considerable profit. There are many real bargains upon the market and there is always ready sale for this class of property. In many instances it is only necessary to place a small mar-gin on the purchase and hold it for a resale which can be quickly and readily made. There are many individuals who derive their income from real estate in this way.

"With the co-operation of a large number of stockholders interested in the enterprise who would copoerate with the officers and directors in making the company a success there is no reason why it should not be built up into one of the most successful concerns in the city.

May Exchange.

The trustees of Massachusetts Avenu-Heights, the American Security & Trust Company, are considering with the Navy Department an exchange of properties held by each whereby the needs of both will better be served. North of Massachusetts avenue, the Government owns on all sides by the property of the new subdivision. It is proposed to exchange this and another piece adjacent to the this and another piece adjacent to the Naval Observatory circle for a wider strip for an avenue running through the property and a piece inside the circle tiself. It is expected a satisfactory transfer can be effected.

Dickson Home Started.

The Boyle-Robertson Company today began the construction of the John Dickson Home for Aged Men on the plot of ground surrounded by Fourteenth street, Piney Branch road, and Ingraham streets northwest, adjoining Saul's Addition on the north and Fourteenth Street terrace on the east. Plans were drawn by Arthur B. Heaton and were recently described in detail in The Times. The Dickson home will be one of the most artistic pieces of Colonial architecture in the District. The building will cost about $125,000 .

The Safest Investments Are those that do not fluctuate during dis-turbed conditions of the money or stock mar-kets. First deed of trust notes (first mort-gages), well secured on real estate in the District of Columbia, constitute "gilt edge" investments. They do not depend upon the financial responsibility of individuals or cor-porations for their stability and are exempt from taxation as personal property. We can supply such investments in amounts from 1600 upward. Send for bookiet, "Cancerning Loans and Investments."
